Deadline set for annual incentive awards nominations

HEIDELBERG, Germany -- The deadline for nominations for the 2005 Army in Europe Annual Incentive Awards is approaching.

The program gives commanders and managers an opportunity to publicly recognize their military and civilian employees for noteworthy accomplishments in a number of special emphasis areas.

Commanders and heads of organizations are encouraged to aggressively solicit nominations for individuals or groups of individuals who have made significant contributions to the Army mission during the calendar year 2004.

Nominations for the awards must be submitted to proponent agencies by February 25. Those agencies can be found in AE Circular 672-1, available to official users online at <https://www.aeaim.hqusareur.army.mil/library>.

Winners of the competition will be recognized here at a ceremony in June.

Complete information and a nomination form are also available online at the USAREUR civilian personnel web site at <http://www.per.hqusareur.army.mil/cpd>. Those resources can be found under "Awards." Click on AE Regulation 672-1 for information on award categories, and to access AE Form 672-1b.
